Asia-Pacific Water Summit

Asia-Pacific
Water Forum

- Once in every 2 -3 years as one of the major activities of the Asia-Pacific Water Forum (APWF)
- Target top-level leaders from various sectors, including heads of government Why?
- Heads of governments are expected to showcase tangible water sector results from the perspective of the “significance of water for social and economic development”
- Governing Council of the APWF will report on the key findings from the APWF process to the top-level leaders at the Summit

Objectives of the Asia-Pacific Water Summit

- To create the opportunity for the leaders of the region to recognize the significance of water issues for achieving MDGs

WHY?

- Water is not just the issue of one particular sector, such as environment, agriculture, industry or the aid issue. But it is the fundamental issue related to the human security and social and economic development of the nations.
- Therefore, the strong leadership of the national leaders are essential.
